Fractional CFO | Family-Owned Musical Instrument Manufacturer | Fully Remote

Description

FD Capital is working with a long-established, family-owned manufacturer of handcrafted musical instruments to appoint a Fractional CFO. The business trades internationally, operates across multiple currencies, and supports a wider family group with interests spanning business operations, property projects and loan obligations.

This is not a reporting-only engagement. Our client wants a genuine strategic partner — someone who can bring order, visibility and forward planning to a business with irregular cash flow patterns typical of high-value, low-volume manufacturing, and who understands how family and business finances interact.

The Role

Working directly with the director, you will:

Build robust financial systems, controls and reporting from a relatively informal base
Own cash flow forecasting and management — the central challenge in a business with lumpy, international revenue

Establish budgeting and regular management reporting

Shape longer-term financial strategy across the business, property projects and loan structures

Manage multi-currency exposure and liaise with US tax advisers on cross-border matters

Mentor a young, ambitious director keen to build their own financial management capability, embedding best-practice systems and reporting that outlast the engagement

Qualifications

About You

Qualified accountant (ACA / ACCA / CIMA) with prior CFO or FD experience in SME or owner-managed businesses

Demonstrable experience with family-owned businesses and the interplay between business and personal/family finances — this is a genuine requirement, not a nice-to-have

Strong on cash flow management in businesses with irregular income

Comfortable with multi-currency operations; exposure to US tax matters (or working alongside US advisers) a distinct advantage

A natural mentor — patient, hands-on and willing to build capability in the leadership team, not just deliver outputs
