Interim CFO Company: VC-Backed FinTech Start-Up

Description

FD Capital are recruiting for an Interim CFO Company: VC-Backed FinTech Start-Up in London UK.

We are seeking a highly skilled and experienced Interim CFO to join our fast-growing VC-backed FinTech start-up based in London. As the Interim CFO, you will play a critical role in shaping our financial strategy, driving growth, and ensuring the financial health of the company during this transitional period. This is a unique opportunity to be part of a dynamic team in the cutting-edge world of financial technology.

If you are a strategic thinker with a passion for finance and a desire to make a significant impact on a growing FinTech start-up, we would love to hear from you. Join our team and help shape the future of financial technology in London and beyond.

Our client is currently working towards a Series-B fundraise and are therefore looking for a CFO who has successfully supported or led a Start-Up through fundraising at a Series A – Series C level. Their service is unique in the FinTech space, setting them apart from competition and gives them the potential to become a market leader and household name.

Note: This is an interim position with a duration of approximately 6-12 months, with potential for a permanent role based on performance and company needs.
